Overview

A conflict of interest is a situation in which someone in a position of trust has competing professional or personal interests. Such competing interests can make it difficult to fulfil his or her duties impartially. A conflict of interest may exist even if no unethical or improper act results from it.

Host Capital Limited (HCL) is committed to identifying, monitoring and managing all actual and potential conflicts of interest that can raise between us, our Client and Funds we manage.

Identification of Conflicts

The Principals identify and document the key conflicts (actual and potential) faced by HCL in its day to day business in the Conflicts Inventory below. This inventory will be periodically reviewed or updated when a new conflict is identified.

Conflict Avoidance

Where a conflict is identified, HCL will seek to organise its business activities in a manner which avoids such a conflict. However, the avoidance of all conflicts is generally not feasible in a commercial environment.

Conflict Management

Where conflicts are unavoidable, HCL will take appropriate measures to mitigate and manage such conflicts in a manner that seeks to ensure that HCL or its Personnel are not advantaged, and that no Client is disadvantaged.

Conflicts Disclosure

Where HCL is not reasonably confident that it is able to manage a particular conflict to adequately protect the interest of a Client, the general nature and/or sources of conflicts of interest will be clearly disclosed to the Client before undertaking any business.

Conflict Monitoring

HCL has implemented a number of procedures and controls to detect conflict situations as they arise, and the Principals will update the Conflicts Inventory accordingly. Once conflicts have been identified, further procedures and controls monitor the effectiveness of the management arrangements of such conflicts.

In addition, the HCL's compliance monitoring programme incorporates a certain number of the specific tests aimed at reviewing its performance in the management of conflicts that HCL has identified.

Education and Awareness

All Personnel receive a copy of HCL's Compliance Manual containing the HCL's conflicts arrangements. In addition, all Personnel are required to give an undertaking of adherence to HCL's compliance procedures, including personal account dealing and receipt of gifts and inducements.

All Personnel also receive both formal and informal training in respect of conflicts of interest generally, and on specific or potential conflicts to HCL.

Trading and Investment Conflicts

HCL faces a variety of common trading and investment conflicts, which to a large degree are managed by existing regulatory requirements arising in the context of its conduct of business.

Issue	Potential Conflict	Management Arrangements
Allocation of transactions	Investment opportunities between Clients; or between the Firm, its Personnel and Clients; may be allocated more preferably to one party, disadvantaging one or more Clients.	Where an investment opportunity arises in which more than one Client or Fund can Participate, the investment will be allocated prorata to the Investment Capital available.
Favouring counterparties	In the execution of transactions, the Firm may favour certain counterparties over others where such counterparties offer the Firm or its Personnel other products, services, allocations, or other gifts, entertainment or benefits (whether in a professional or personal capacity).	HCL will not favour any counterparty over another for reasons of inducements or benefits which do not have a direct benefit to the Clients or the Funds.
Conflicting positions or trading strategies	Having a conflicting position in securities or adopting conflicting trading strategies for different Clients such that dealing for one Client may potentially be detrimental to the other.	HCL within its legal agreements, states that delegated investment managers are expected to identify and resolve any potential conflicted positions or trading strategies and insure at all times that resolution of such conflicts are implemented in such a manner which is consistent across all Clients / Fund shareholders. Fair valuation of financial instruments	Seeking to overstate or otherwise have influence over the fair valuation of securities and other financial instruments and in particular those which may not have a quoted market price or which may otherwise be difficult to value accurately.	All securities held by HCL's Funds are either valued using 3 rd party pricing sources and where not available through independent valuations sources. Where prices are not available HCL's (in its capacity of the Fund's Authorised Corporate Director) Fair Value Pricing Policy will be invoked and followed.
Pricing and valuation errors	Not taking sufficient action to rectify pricing and other valuation errors or anomalies where to do so would have a negative impact on the price and value of those securities.	HCL employs a zero tolerance policies to Pricing Errors and will rectify any pricing as per COLL 6.3 requirements.
Valuation Policy	Not implementing a valuation policy or deviating from the policy which may impact on the fair valuation of financial instruments.	HCL at all times follows the Valuation Policy as laid out in the Fund's Prospectus and in accordance with COLL 6.3.

HCL will only enter into such arrangements where the arrangement Treats Customer Fairly and does not favour one Client over the other.
Handling sensitive and confidential information	Inappropriate handling of sensitive or confidential information (whether inside information or not) or using such information to trade inappropriately to the detriment of other Clients.	HCL has its own Market Abuse Policy. Which includes HCL Personnel are not allowed to deal, either for a Client, themselves or a family member in any investment about which HCL or the individual has inside, sensitive, confidential or not yet published information. Influence of outside business interests or activities	Personnel who have outside commitments (i.e. directorships, business interests) may be influenced to act in a manner that conflicts with the interests of the Firm or its Clients.	HCL has approval process in place for all staff that has outside work interest. Authorisation will only be granted where such interest will not conflict with that of HCL and its Clients.

Relationship Conflicts

HCL needs to identify, manage and, where appropriate, separate external relationships.

Issue	Potential Conflict	Management Arrangements
Distribution relationships	Where the Firm has relationships with third parties for the distribution of the Funds and other investment products, they may be remunerated in a manner to incentivise the promotion of any one Fund or product over any other.	Where HCL engages 3 rd party distributors the terms of engagement require the distributor to follow the regulations of Financial Promotions and the distributor is specifically prohibited from offering financial inducements which are not applied in a manner which treats each Fund's interest fairly.
Investor relationships	Where the Firm has large or otherwise influential Investors they may be provided with greater Fund transparency or provided with better Fund liquidity.
